The recruitment process for the academic year began in July 2022, with the Guidance Counselling & Placement Committee inviting a diverse array of organizations. Including educational institutions, NGOs, and corporate entities. The process commenced with pre-placement talks. Where companies introduced themselves, explained the roles on offer, and highlighted growth opportunities within their organizations. This was followed by preliminary aptitude tests conducted by some organizations to shortlist candidates for further rounds. Group discussions were also a part of the selection process, assessing candidates' communication skills, teamwork, and critical thinking. The final stage involved personal interviews, where recruiters evaluated candidates on their technical knowledge, problem-solving abilities, and overall suitability for the roles.
